

IAFFE
International Association for Feminist Economics
www.iaffe.org

Art "Vibraciones", by Josefina Robirosa,
Poster for IAFFE's Annual Conference, Buenos Aires, July 2010

What is IAFFE?

The International Association for Feminist Economics (IAFFE) was created to foster a community of economists and non-economists, of academics, practitioners, and activists from across the world who are interested in feminist viewpoints on questions of economic analysis, policy, and practice. Our goals are wide-ranging and include: creating collaborations to develop a feminist analysis of economic issues; educating economists, policy makers, and the general public on feminist points of view on economic matters; providing aid in expanding opportunities for women, and especially women from underrepresented groups within economics; and encouraging inclusion of feminist perspectives in the economics classroom. IAFFE was incorporated in 1992. Its journal, Feminist Economics, began accepting submissions in 1994. From the outset, in its vision and membership, IAFFE has sought to be inclusive and open.

Why join IAFFE?

Joining IAFFE will connect you with a vibrant and supportive community of feminist scholars and activists. IAFFE hosts an annual conference that is truly international, with plenaries and research presentations from members from around the world. The conference venue rotates across the globe to ensure that members from different places in the world have the opportunity to attend. Membership includes a subscription to the journal Feminist Economics, which is dedicated to providing a space for a variety of theoretical perspectives and cutting edge research on contemporary issues. In addition, membership provides a newsletter, access to the IAFFE listserv, and an active web site that fosters communication and collaboration among members.

What can you contribute to IAFFE?

IAFFE is a member-run organization. Members may be called upon to review articles for the journal, organize sessions for the annual conference, serve on ad hoc committees, and run for the IAFFE Board of Directors.

IAFFE is committed to being truly international and truly diverse, open to the ideas, experiences, and approaches of feminist scholars and activists within and without economics, around the world. IAFFE aims to promote interaction among researchers, activists, and policy-makers, with a goal of better analytical frameworks, better policy, better scholarship, and better activism. These are important, ambitious, and difficult goals. IAFFE will succeed to the extent that it maintains an active, international, and diverse membership dedicated to furthering its goals.

If you share these goals, IAFFE is an organization in which you can make a difference.

How to Join

You may join online at: <http://www.iaffe.org/members/join.php> or download a membership form and mail it to the main office. IAFFE membership rates are based on a sliding scale.

IAFFE Main Office:

International Association for Feminist Economics
University of Nebraska-Lincoln
Department of Agricultural Economics
208A Filley Hall, East Campus
Lincoln, NE 68583-0922

Web page: <http://www.iaffe.org>

